They Didn't Think.

- BY PHOEBE CARY.
- Once a trap was baited
- With a piece of cheese;
 It tickled so a little mouse
 It almost made him specze.
 An old rat said, "There's danger—
- Be careful where you go!"
 "Nonesense!" said the other,
 "I don't think you know!"
 So he walked in boldly;
- So he walked in boldly;
 Nobody in sight,
 First he took a nibble,
 Then he took a bite.
 Close the trap tegether
 Snapped as quick as wink,
 Catching mousey fast there,
 'Cause he didn't think.
- Once a little turkey, Fond of her own way, Wouldn't ask the old ones
- Where to go or stay. She said: "I'm not a baby; Here I am half grown;
- Surely I am big enough To run around alone!
- Off she went; but somebody,
- Hiding, saw her pass; Soon, like snow, her feathers Covered all over the grass;
- So she made a supper For a sly young mink, 'Cause she was so headstrong That she wouldn't think.
- Once there was a robin
- Lived outside the door, Who wanted to go inside
- Who wanted to go inside And hop upon the floor. "No, no," said the mother, "You must stay with me; Little birds are safest

- Little birds are safest
 Sitting in a tree."
 "I don't care!" said robin,
 And gave his tall a fling;
 "I don't think the old folks
 Know quite everything!"
 Down he flew, and kitry seized him
 Before he'd time to think;
 "Oh!" he cried, "I'm sorry,
 But I didn't think!"
- Now, my little children,
- You who read this song. Don't you see what trouble Comes from thinking wrong?
- Can't you take a warning From their dreadful fate, Who began their thinking
- When it was too late? Don't think there's always safety,
- Don't suppose you know more Than anybody knows
- Who has gone before.

 But, when you're warned of ruin,
 Pause upon the brink,
 And don't go under headlong
- 'Cause you didn't think. Remarkable Genius.

Greenwood Light. It will be remembered that W. J. Carr, a one-armed white man, was convicted of breaking into the house of Messrs. Bailey, Harksdale & Co., of this place about two years ago and sentenced to the penitentiary for the term of five years, and last spring he succeeded in making good his escape from that institution. His family, however, have lived in Bucklevel for the past year, where they made a crop, but a few days ago they left for garts unknown. After their departure a secret door was accidentally discovered in the wall of the house recently occupied by the family, and upon investigation it was discovered that this door led to the garrett of the house and there it was seen at once must have been Carr's hiding place for many months. He had there constructed a rude bed, and scattered over the floor were papers and railroad circulars and various other evidences of this having been his refuge.

These who have seen it say that it surpasses. It will be remembered that W. J. Carr, a

Those who have seen it say that it surpasses anything they have ever seen in the way of construction and skilled workmanship; that families might live in the house for years and not detect the secret entrances and doors.

About the Farm. [Kershaw Gazette.]

[Kerehaw Gazette.]

The importance of doing every thing now that can be done to put forward the work of the coming spring cannot be over estimated, or too strongly insisted on. Too many farmers content themselves, at this season, with merely saving the crops that have been made, and perhaps getting up a little fire wood and erecting rule shelters for the stock. And many, to their discredit be it spoken, do not even this much for the stock, or for the comfort of their Winter evening fireside.

But the diligent farmer, who always looks ahead and who knows how often the Spring work is delayed by rains and inciement.

of the busy time.

The plowing of fallow land to turn in the vegetation on it, and cause it to rot that it may do good next season, and to destroy insects and give the frost, God's plow, a chance to pulverize and ripen the soil; the hauling of manure from the forest, and spreading it either before or after the plow, or both; digging and clearing out ditches; and the clearing of new land, are all branches of labor that can be done at this season better than any other time, and, it done, goes very far indeed to put forward the labors of the coming Spring.

Honest Difference of Opinion.

The Barnesville Gazette, of Georgia, has this to say of the Augusta Chronicle:
"Guess Col. Avery will have to step down and out as the Atlanta correspondent of the Augusta Chronicle, as his ideas of temperance do not collicide with the liquor advocating policy of the Chronicle. The big daily papers of Georgia have but little use for correspondents who cannot manufacture news of just such character as they desire." The Chronicle promptly answers the Gazette "The Burnesville Gazette is very much mistaken. Col. Avery will not have to step down and out as the Atlanta correspondent of the Chronicle. Our correspondents do not have to manufacture news for the Chronicle. All the Chronicle requires is the truth. Our corres-Chronicle requires is the truth. Our correspondents are free to discuss moral, political and all other questions of interest according to their own convictions of right and wrong. The Chronicle has taken ground in opposition to prohibition. Col. Avery, over the signature of 'Richmond,' has advocated prohibition strongly in the columns of the Chronicle. We think our prohibition friends should allow us the privilege of an honest difference of opinion. In any event they should give the opinion. In any event, they should give the Chronicle credit for its fairness and honesty in presenting both sides of every question."

What Becomes of the Phosphate Royalty? [Columbia Register.]

In conversation with some members of the Legislature we were surprised to learn that they were under the impression that the royalty derived from the mining of phosphate rock was used for the support of the Agricultural Department. This department supertural Department. This department supervises the phosphate territory and looks after the return of miners, but every dollar of the royalty is paid into the State treasury and is used for the ordinary expenses of the State government. The Department of Agriculture, as appears from the annual reports of the Commissioner, has so managed this intermethod the royalty has been increased from est that the royalty has been increased from est that the royalty has been increased from a out $70,000 per annum in 1880 to $170,000 in 1885, and has to that extent diminished the State taxes paid by the people. The department is supplied entirely by the privilige tax on commercial fertilizers paid by the manufacturers and dealers in these goods, and while it has caused to be paid into the State treasury over $790,000 of phosphate royalty, it has received no benefit from it whatever.

The True Test. Associate Reformed Presbyterian.

It is stated as a significant circumstance that while the prohibitionists in Atlanta are that while the prohib'tionists in Atlanta are holding nightly prayer-meetings for the success of their cause, the anti-prohibitionists do nothing of the sort. We are not surprised at it. Can you imagine the prayer of such, an one? Surely the old plea about 'sumptuary laws' and 'personal liberty' would never be presented before God. Such prayer would be too absurd even for a blatant ward politician,
